

Is your beneficiary information up to date?

It's important to keep your beneficiary information up to date so that, when you die, your savings are distributed according to your wishes. If you don't name a beneficiary for your Plan account, your loved ones may have difficulty claiming money to which they are entitled.

To name a beneficiary or change your beneficiary information online:

1. Log on to your account at vanguard.com/retirementplans.
2. Select My Profile.
3. Select Beneficiaries.*

Note: If you also have other accounts with Vanguard, select Employer plans before you click the My Profile tab.

Your Plan beneficiary designation supersedes your will regarding Plan savings. Federal law requires that your employer distribute your savings to the beneficiary named in your Plan.
